

Word on the Streets - December 2017

Friday 1st	Schoolswork Training: Mentoring and chaplaincy work - Luton	Bute Mills, Luton	10:00am - 4:00pm
	How do you best support students one-to-one in schools if you're a local youthworker or schoolswork organisation? In this day you'll learn: / • types of mentoring and approaches for primary and secondary work / • what skills and qualifications are needed / • reflective listening skills / • how to present your services to schools / • record keeping and working within a school's requirements / • types of chaplaincy support for schools
Saturday 2nd	Urban Congress 2017 - Birmingham	St Luke's Church, Great Colmore Street, B15 2AT	10:00am - 3:30pm
	Staying in the City (Luke 24.49) - Sharing Stories of Hope and Holding On. aims to inspire, refresh and energise us all in the ministries to which God has called us across the Inner Urban and Outer Estates of Birmingham. The day is for Laity and Clergy to hear and share stories of hopefulness; of where they sense God's Kingdom breaking through, and where it feels like there are times of simply holding on; being faithful to God's calling.
Tuesday 5th	Quakers and Business - decision-making through Quaker Business Method - London	Friends House, 173-177 Euston Road, London. NW1 2BJ	9:00am - 5:00pm
	When we engage with the brokenness of the world, one of our tools can be willingness to listen: to each other, to those with whom we disagree, to the vulnerable, and to the leadings of spirit, however we are sensitive to them. Listening, combined with trust and openness, enables clear discussion that lays aside narrow agendas. Practitioners and specialists will be sharing best practice.
